Placerville, CA, March 31, 2009:

Effective April 14, 2009, the Cameron Park Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) modular, Department 10, opens for operation. With the opening of Department 10, the Court will be moving ADR meetings and hearings from the 495 Main Street, Placerville courthouse to the Cameron Park court site at 3321 Cameron Park Drive, centralizing all civil proceedings on the Western Slope at one location.

The modular facility has been in the planning stages for several years. In 2003, the El Dorado County Superior Court was awarded a grant from the El Dorado County Board of Supervisors for a modular unit at the Cameron Park court site for Civil Alternative Dispute Resolution matters. The project design phase began in 2005 and the CEQA and Initial Study/Mitigated Negative Declaration were completed in 2007. Bids on the construction and modular unit were approved in 2008 and the ground breaking was held on April 4, 2008.

The El Dorado County Superior Court looks forward to providing the County and its residents with services at the new facility and will be looking at opportunities to utilize the new Department for overflow civil matters and increased dispute resolution or mediation.
